- 4.2. We recognise that the knowledge, responsibility and conduct of our staff play an important role in mitigating the risk of slavery and human trafficking within the Bank. Our Employee Handbook, Code of Conduct and Culture Statement set out the key standards for behaviour and conduct that apply to all employees. The application of these documents is underpinned by a framework of policies, practices and training which seek to ensure that employees understand what is expected of them.
- 4.3. UBA UK undertakes a rigorous and appropriate recruitment screening process in order to safeguard against slavery and human trafficking and to ensure that all employees are recruited lawfully and in compliance with UK legislation and regulation.

Our customers and counterparties

- 4.4. Modern Slavery is a crime and as such criminals responsible will attempt to hide proceeds in the financial system and legitimise them. The Bank has a responsibility to deter, detect and prevent illicit use of the financial system by criminals.
- 4.5. UBA UK has developed a robust due diligence framework, which includes Anti-Money Laundering and Know Your Customer processes and procedures, designed to screen all customers and counterparties at onboarding and at regular intervals thereafter. The Bank conducts a rigorous process of due diligence on all partners and suppliers who work with us and this is detailed in our Procurement Management Framework and our Outsourcing Policy and Procedures. Any new relationships are only approved following satisfactory due diligence checks. Such due diligence checks serve as controls to protect the Bank from dealing with suppliers that are in violation of existing laws and regulations.

5. Our approach to assessing and managing risk

- 5.1. As a regulated financial institution, UBA UK fully complies with the rules, regulations and codes issued by the PRA and the FCA and we are committed to protecting the financial system by maintaining effective financial crime controls.
